

Mission

Fellows at the Center for Leadership learn to develop their capacity for leadership and delve into thought-provoking questions about leadership, teamwork, and followership. Throughout the Winter and Spring Quarters, Fellows work collaboratively with program faculty and staff in an environment that fosters deep learning through inquiry and real-world problem solving.

Components

General Sessions [4 hours]

- Includes the entire 2024 Fellowship cohort.
- Location may vary between Evanston and Chicago campuses (dependent on cohort).
- Sessions consist of instruction, break, and preparatory work for Team Meetings.
- Lunch will be provided.

Team Meetings [2 hours]

- Include 4-5 peers from across the university.
- Meeting locations are determined by the Team itself.
- Discussions are facilitated by a Team Leader.

Time Commitment: 6 hours per month - Based on an average of one intensive General Session and one small Team Meeting every 4 weeks (program dates are provided on the next page).

Stipend

Upon completion of the program, all Fellows are awarded a $1,000 stipend.

Application Details

- Applicants must have previously been coached or are currently being coached by means of the Center for Leadership's Leadership Coaching Program.
- Applicants must be full-time TGS students not beyond their 5th year, J.D. candidates, MD candidates, or full-time post-docs.
- The deadline to apply is Friday, November 17, 2023. The application asks basic questions about your profile and several short answer questions and requests a resume or CV. Apply here.
- Applicants that make it to the final round of the process will be asked to participate in an interview. There will be virtual and in-person time slots available, and all interviews will take place Wednesday, November 29th through Wednesday, December 6th.
- Applicants will be notified of our decisions by Wednesday, December 13th.
- Contact Sara at sara.fassino@northwestern.edu with any specific questions.
